

9th day of Lent

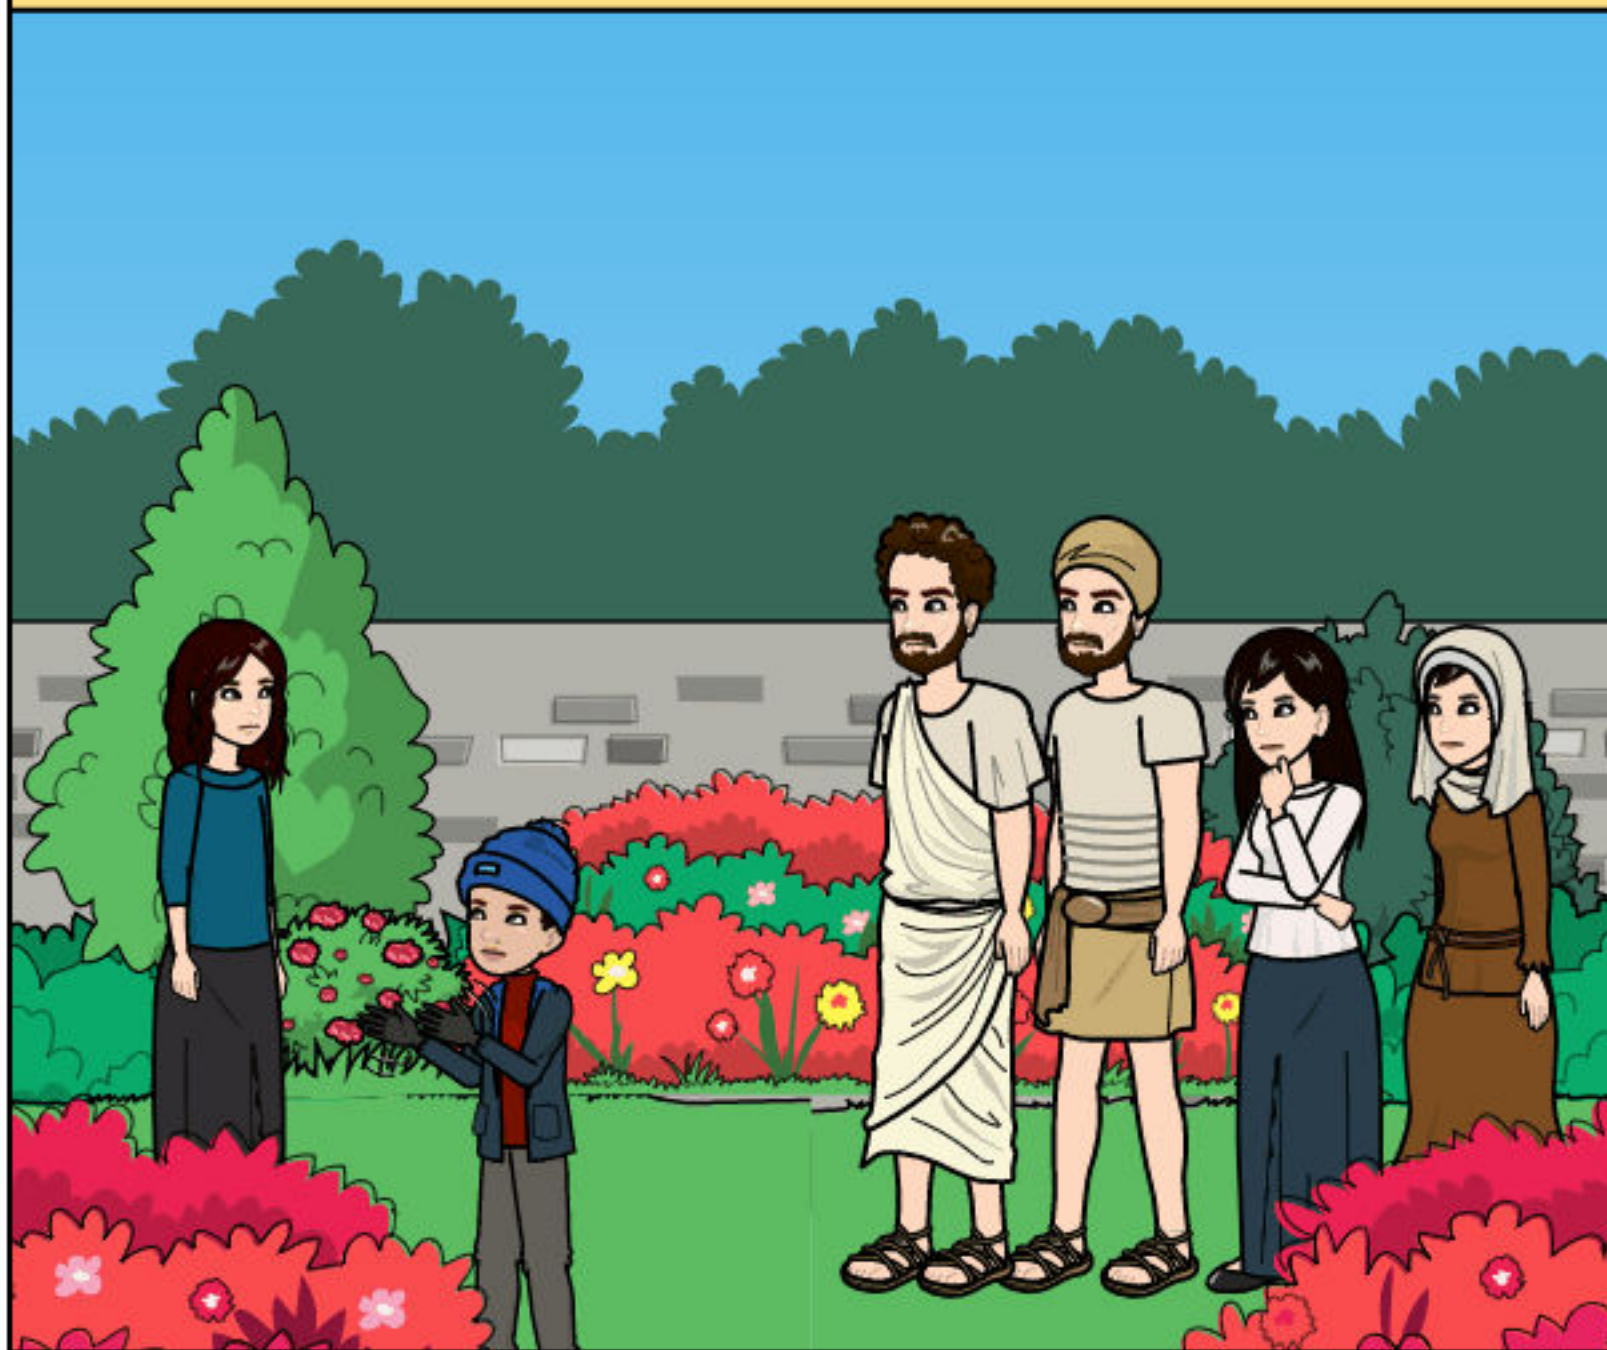

“Help me,
who am alone and
have no help but you...”
(Esther 14:3)

It is the story of Esther at Mass today, guys. The poor lady was wrongly accused by some villains who had an ulterior motive. She was to be condemned until the Lord raised up help for her.

Help came from where she least expected. While many looked on, the spirit of the Lord moved a small boy to speak up against the injustice Esther was facing.

And thus was she delivered and saved from the menace of lies and evil of her day. The Lord still raises up his spirit in us today. Let us listen to him and work against all injustices in our society
